

WidePoint's iSYS Continues to Expand Contracts with the Department of Defense and the Transportation Security Administration

Company adds additional $2.5 million to the current year's task orders and contract modifications

Wednesday, August 20, 2008

WASHINGTON, D.C., -- WidePoint Corporation (AMEX: WYY), a leading provider of advanced information technology, identity assurance and protection and mobile telecom management services, today announced that its subsidiary iSYS has received several new task orders from the Department of Defense (DoD's) Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) and a modification to its contract with the Transportation Security Administration (TSA) representing a total value of approximately $2.5 million.

Under our WHS Blanket Purchase Agreement to provide mobile telecom management services (MTMS) for the Office of the Secretary of Defense, the company has received eight new task orders fully funded for an additional $1.5 million. Since the beginning of August, the company has received $4.0 million in new task orders from WHS.

The company also received an additional modification to our contract with the TSA representing approximately $900,000 in value and additional task orders representing approximately another $100,000 in new awards. Since July, the company has received contract modifications from the TSA representing $7.2 million in additional contract value.

iSYS President Jin Kang said, "Our proprietary technology, excellent customer service, and industry experts provide our clients with superior service and cost effective solutions that they continue to extend throughout their organizations. We believe this positive past performance will be the cornerstone of our success as we market our services to the 14 additional agencies participating in the General Service Administrations (GSA) Federal Strategic Sourcing Initiative (FSSI). Further, we believe our successes will lead to the awards of additional federal agencies and departments, states, cities, local municipalities, and other organizations."
